ROWY

We are the young, the moving renovaterestartrevamp
No longer are we adolescent;
Now we live elated, flushed
In a time when uptodatebrand newspannewfirenewspikand spannewborn20thcentury are old.
Now we are transported, in exhilaration to a world of jubilation
flowerpowerflowerofyouth;
With springtide, springald and airiness
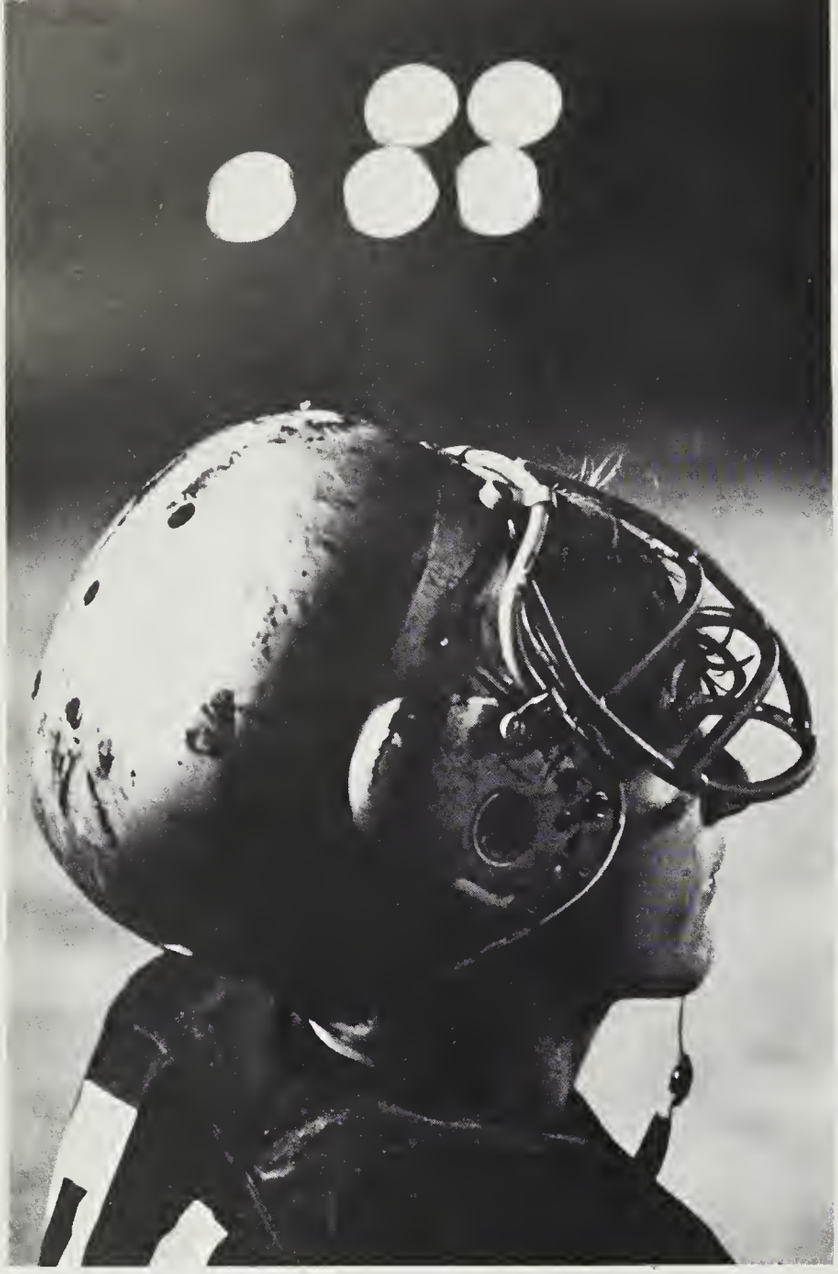
brazenly vivacious
as we breathe.



The game of champions, each with his trademark: something broken sprained dislocated
Each sweating, striving for two uprights of wood.
Playfortyeightrundowntheside is accomplished (or not) automatically with a vestige of hate and courage lumped in.
We are indomitable.
Usually.

The game of spectators, each one sitting, shouting groaning cold
Each chanting maniacally to the beat of pom-poms.
Fustentendoitagin in an oh so solemn manner.
Who cares what it means?
We have spirit.
Usually.

HOMECOMING QUEEN: Janie Lassiter

The airy-fairy nymphs of Groveton
Pease-blossoms, mustard seeds, and cob-webs Spritely laughing, dancing their way across a mud entrenched football field.
Each one losing a blossoms slipper down engulfed in the mire.
Smiling
And the crowd is watching, waiting for Titania herself to emerge
Queen of popular elect.

I am, in every way, alone.
The snow, isolates me
and I am alone.
I do not believe that it was by my choice only that I have this loneliness.
But for every person there is a point of segregation,
a field of snow enveloping each of us.
Painfully, I am alone and now I think that only by being so, could I be happy.

Inhaling, exhaling powder backstage I rub into creases
deodorant sprayed on my hands
grimace in a mirror
Now, now, inhale, exhale stepping on a slippery stage greenandblueandyellowandwhite orbs of light in my eyes.
Exhale, gently,
creating a description through action.

Lucy

From a country far south she has come up far north
On an odyssey, noting the changes and similars
Of one to the other, lands, people, and faiths.
To promote understanding is the name of her goal
And we do understand through her laughter and maxims
Her wide-eyes and finger-wags and oo-oohs
and ahs
That people are people wherever you go (And Lucy
Is one of the best ones we know.)

Now you can truly say that you are the best.
You have received a due accolade and they have cheered you.
This is the high point of your existence or perhaps it is merely one high point among others.
This is the result of a lifetime of striving or
perhaps
it is the result of a few hours of fooling around.
But you are still the topmost
the foremost the utmost everyone will greet you as such whether you merit it or no.
Congratulations!

Student Cooperative Association

I am filled with horror.
My friends I sincerely elected are sincerely working to rid me of my money Tickets, they sell, tickets to games, to buses, to dances
Christmas cards, subscriptions.
Crammed like concessionaires down the gauntlet of the aisle I must crawl through for my lunch.
If I was ever vulnerable
through my money,
I am certainly not now hard.

The Walter Mittys of Groveton,

The good people, spreading their gospel
gotten from gods of S.C.A.
Truths in mimeographed-blue on sheeny-shiny paper.

Honor Council

Our creed is like any other Virginian creed;
a code of morals posted in every room —
And in true and ancient Virginia tradition,
we demand obedience.
Perhaps nowhere else could we achieve as high a degree of success.

Yearbook
Located in a room with the dimensions and attitude of a sepulchre. There is a sink in the corner where, once the water has been turned on, it can't be turned off. Coke bottles are methodically pigeon-holed between the staff's boxes. The calendar is tied to the window. Part of the floor was accidentally spray-painted pink and orange; and the typewriters don't work. Everyone is wonderfully happy.

Band

Oom pah pah!
swells the mighty sound, the sound of the Band.
Many individuals glued and practiced into a whole.
A few free times a year (and others costly too) we hear them.
Hear them swell and dim to monumental works of art.
Hear them blow and ring and hoot and wail
and pound.
Hear them sweating in the faithful reproduction of an artiste's caprice.
Or, perhaps,
not hear them at all.
Speaking
Sleeping
Studying
And of a consequence
not hearing them at all.
Not hearing them, It, the accomplishment that is the Band.

Hola!
I am a man on a hill
thin, in heavy armor
squeaking when I move.
My horse, Rosenante, not a

I am Spain. Am Don Quixote.
I am this man, a Moor, a pinata festivals of oranges and yellows
the symbol of the language of the country.

Latin Honor Society,
my sincere congratulations
You have struggled through a seemly impenetrable jungle of verb forms, conjugations
For a dead language. Be consoled —
You will understand the scientific names of every plant and animal in the jungle.

Members: First Row: N. Kolzak (V. Pres.), S. Seligman, K. Johnson, F. Horecky; Second Row: R. Spivack (Sec.), K. Feldman, N. Medvin, R Johnson, W. Smith; Third Row: K. Weaver, J. Hawks, J. McConnaughey, P. Richter. Not Pictured: F. Rogin (Pres.), L. Tolcott (Treas.).

Latin Club

A dead language brought to life
by wearing togas, feasting on the floor.
Not, of course, a Bacchanalia,
but fun, as even Virgil knew.

Members: A. Shafer (Pres.), S. Messerschmidt (V. Pres.), Mr. Baker (Spansar), M. Beatty, K. Hart, C. Hellner. Not Pictured: S. Schuster (Sec.), A. Levit (Treas.), J. daSilveira.

The German Club

Between the Rhine and the Rhone we imagined
A hundred fortified castles.
There are villages of dancing, laughing people
Celebrating the successful hunt of a bear —
The brothers Grimm and Albrecht Durer.
Imagine speaking the language of the oldest kings,
The tongue of hundred fantasies haunting the Blackest Forest, even in America.

The History Club

The Past determines the Present and the Present determines the Past Interpretations in the abstract —
arguments never resolved; there is no right, wrong, good or evil
reflect your times — the fun is in the question

Members: Mr. Hupart (Sponsor), S. Fiske (Pres.), C. Bauers, P. Laynor.

Math Team

A scary, frenzied maze of wrong answers, leaving off of proper labels.
Handed an approved blank sheet
an accepted pencil
And asked to calculate, counting against the seconds of constantly ticking clock.
(Solving problems both of math and of courage.)

Science Club

We can see
like the inside curvings of a shell
both the pattern
and the perfection.
We are searching.
Not today, perhaps not eventually we will answer our own yearnings, and trace as through the chambers of a shell,
the pattern of all man.

Bridge Club

Arrange your cards. Calculate your tricks.
Bid.
"Four hearts!"
bent upon winning, give it your all and perhaps your wits as well. (Keep them about you. Count trump.) The art of success in the Goren game is to finesse
groan deceptively dare but Second hand low.

Chess Club

Specializing in intricasies
a board of blacks and whites,
they the banners.
The detail of thought anticipation
Is itself the mighty battle.

Debate Team

We speak in rhetoric eloquence,
Our command of words
Each of us offers a sililogue, negative affirmative
articulating our point of view
in such a manner
as to confuse and stun our opponents.
A logical progression of twisting arguments.

Forensics

Speech!
(Do you hear me at the back?) I said
Speech!
With all proper enunciation and articulation interpretive reason and flair
We speak fluently.
Works from our mouths like the fountain of Hippocrene continually flowing Speech!

Key-Keyette Club
The do-gooders of Groveton.
Behind the false facade
of Christmas trees
Slavery, coat-check, flowers
They are working.
They concerned.
They enthused.
Whether the cause is helping the school or aiding migrant workers —
They are happy to serve.

Folk Club

Sitting in a room, at the back, on a dusty floor knees all dirty and all want to hear some more.
Singing to myself, think I, singing now of the war sing about the cities, cinderblock, and people on the floor sing the songs a nation, all the people want to hear.
Sing about the sun, now the grass, and the sandy shore (fire from above meet with fire from within the core.)
Singing with my guitar propped between my knees.

For them, school exists only until noon.
Then, like men changing shifts

They enter their other world.

Now a student in some school of life too early leaving home, now becoming proteges of a commercialized profession.
And what do you lose when you are paid?

In Memoriam:

Brenda Duncan (Aug. 8, 1951-Nov. 23, 1967)

SIXTY-SEVEN--SIXTY-EIGHT: A HISTORY

Sixty-seven—sixty-eight: a year of promises for the future, regrets for the simple past; a year of tradition and innovation, normality and abnormality; a year when eighth graders became high schoolers and seniors looked toward college—or the war; a year of meet discipline and due reward; a year containing the auspicious birth of Bruce Ricks Taylor and the sad death of Brenda Duncan; a year of flower power and sunshine and snow days and victories; a year of freshman eagerness and senior slump; a year of Groveton.

The Look The trays still sat on the cafeteria tables; the temporary buildings still sat in the parking lot. It seemed a fair exchange: the extra work for the staff for the wretched heating systems outside. However, "third station" was renovated in the spring as a slight physical improvement of the school. A heating system was installed, the wire mesh around the rear walls replaced by cinder blocks, and a wall broken down to enlarge the gym facility.

Discipline In a rare showing of power, the administration asserted itself in an enforcement of regulations this year. Dance rules were reviewed in November and put into practice to prevent rowdy behavior. Later, the smoking rules were re-emphasized and enforced: when teachers gave up their lounging (and smoking) time to patrol the bathrooms the atmosphere finally returned to a breathable state. (Smoking forums were held but poorly attended; there was no alternative found.) A new absentee pass system created congestion in the office every morning but reduced cutting. To discuss the new and enforced rules, Mr. Taylor set up a faculty-student committee representing the faculty and a cross-section of the student body.

Perhaps the only permissive act by the administration all year, the issuance of senior honor cards was as lauded as its privileges were abused. Honor cards enabled seniors to charge items at the bookstore, go to the library or in the halls without a pass, and write their own absentee passes: simplifying cutting for those to whom honor is just another word.

S.C.A. Two Student Cooperative Association projects succeeded this year in spite of the lack of support from the student body. In October the annual magazine drive garnered ten thousand dollars, of which the school received a profit of 3,625 dollars. (As always, it was necessary to appeal to human greed to reach such a goal with the incentive of a multitude of prizes.) The money was used to buy a stereo set for the cafeteria and to finance various clubs and organizations in need of money.

Later, six Groveton students traveled to Marietta, Ohio, in the interest of learning more about school life elsewhere in the country. The exchangers, Jim Armstrong, Merryn Rutledge, Howard Wallace, Gretchen Engquist, Eric Hemmendinger, and Naomi Medvin, gave a panel discussion on the trip for the benefit of the student body. They commented on the friendliness of the students in Marietta. Later in February, seven students from Marietta visited Groveton. Time was spent attending classes, sight-seeing and getting acquainted. In comparing the two schools they found the classes here much less rigid than theirs, with more class participation.

Next year's S.C.A. officers were elected in March. As another expression of general apathy, three of the offices went uncontested. Another was gained by a write-in vote.

Winners were:

President—David West
Vice President—Felix Rogin
Secretary—Gretchen Engquist
Treasurer—David Kreutzer
Reporter—Stephen Kolzak

Sports If the Senators won the World Series this year, it would hardly be more surprising than the 1967 Tiger football team, which, having won a total of two games in two years (one by default), captured seven this year, dropping only two and tying one. This is the best record in Groveton's history. In recognition of the feat, Coach Carter was named District Coach of the Year. Also a first, the Tigers won a Homecoming game, downing Falls Church 31-14. During a wet halftime, Janie Lassiter was crowned Queen. Psychedelia reigned the next night, with couples dancing amid the colors of a light show and to the rhythm of The U.S. Mail.

In winter sports, the Tiger teams were equally successful. The varsity basketball team finished second in the district with an 8-2 record. Tom Miller and Randy Barnett both made the all-District teams, while Randy earned a spot on the Regional team. The Groveton grapplers finished at 8-4, and sent Dino Gordon, captain Gene Reid, and Charles Bish to state. Finally, with its third loss in four years, the girls' basketball team finished tied for the top at 11-1.

Powderpuff Annually female members of Groveton let out their animal natures on each other, while the boys satisfy a basic clowning instinct in that monumental mix-up, the Powderpuff football game. This year was no exception. Girls legally fought each other tooth and nail, as hairy-legged cheerleaders with built-up busts waved them on with pom-poms. (The Juniors beat the aging Seniors 6-0.)

Awards In March, the band topped all others in the district when it received superior ratings on all entries from the judges in the District Instrumental Music Festival.

The newspaper received a first place rating at the March Columbia Scholastic Press Association convention in New York.

At the state convention of the Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America, Groveton took second place in Honor Clubs. The following students were awarded:

Public Speaking—Candy Monteith, Second
Occupational Display—Dallas Hovatter, Third Talent—Ricky Latham, Second

The club as a whole placed first in both the district and regional competitions.

In the district forensic meet in April, Mary Sanford placed third in spelling and Jennifer Leonard placed first in poetry reading.

The math team finished fourth in the county.

The debate team finished with a winning season. Cheryl Hellner was named first place speaker in a five school Gunston District debate.

The Optimist Award went to senior Bill Williams this year. Another senior, Dinah Smith, was the recipient of the D.A.R. Award, while John Kreutzer was honored with the S.A.R. Award. Senior Barbara Thomas qualified as a finalist in the National Achievement Scholarship Program, one for qualified Negro high school students. Jessie Schorr won the Betty Crocker Award as well as being a finalist in the Merit Scholarship Program along with Bob McConnaughey.

Curriculum This year the English Department instistuted a valuable new program which supplemented the normal studies of certain college-bound classes. In the Humanities Enrichment Program, students studied the classical and cultural histories of different countries, using movies and lectures to accompany reading. Hopefully this will not be limited to such a few students in years to come.

S.P.T.A. New life was breathed into the revived organization for a while; students came in hordes to the panel discussions on "Taking the Stress Off Grades" and "Drugs and Sex", but since no pat answers could be given by the adults to suit them, did not attend the down-to-earth meetings like the one on the Groveton-Bryant conversion.

Power of Suggestion In March, the striking District faculties led many students to hope that Fairfax County teachers would also strike to make the school board meet their demands. Unfortunately, the matter was settled peaceably, with the Board of Supervisors agreeing to a $6400 pay base. (The maximum salary in Prince Edward County was only $6500 at the time.)

Student Teachers As their mentors leaned back and smoked, lazily beaming approval, five area college students learned teaching from the lecturing to the dirty work during a stay at Groveton the third nine weeks. Misses Bonnie Kelley, Susanne Oest, Clemence Descheemaeker, Cheryl Parkins, and Clara Jean Sayers helped out in the social studies, language, and English departments, adding a needed touch of freshness, if not the experience of years, to the curriculum.

Loss Mr. Taylor's secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, left in February to become Administrative Secretary to Mr. Robert Phipps, area administrator; her replacement was Mrs. Jean Phillips. Another change in the office was the replacement of Mrs. Freda Schmidt, who moved to the library, by Mrs. Ferebee Lewis as Student Control Secretary.

Safety Week Wails of a bereaved mother and films of bad crashes served to shock the student body for perhaps the length of one assembly: Groveton's subsequent record showed its impermanence. Perhaps the only safe drivers to come out of Safety Week were Dinah Smith and Tom Boone, who proved themselves true drivers in the Safe Driver Roadeo. Unfortunately, the Back-Seat Driver's Licenes and Date-Approved Driving Stickers controverted human nature in many cases, and probably somewhere a sticker was peeled off the bumper of a smashed car waiting to become scrap metal.

Drama Significantly, the first presentation of the drama department was an ancient but most applicable anti-war drama, Euripides' "Trojan Women", presented by the advanced class in October. Both other productions took place in the Victorian Era, Oscar Wilde's farce "The Importance of Being Earnest", presented February 1st and 3rd, and Abbott and Loesser's musical "Where's Charley?", May 9th and 10th.

Television Groveton students were nervous participants on both ends of question-answer shows this year. On "Youth Wants to Know", Senator Harrison Williams (D.-N. J.) left the Groveton panelists in the dark about Vietnam as he parried questions on the subject, but disposed neatly of domestic problems. On March 16th, Groveton was represented on the quiz show "It's Academic" by Joy Da Silveira (Captain), Mark Platt, and Jennifer Leonard. It was a close match, but Groveton was too slow on the buzzer in the last round and lost with 200 points to Laurel (220 points) and West Springfield (270 points).

Scholar President Kennedy's assassination was the result of a conspiracy. The presidential election of 1860 was one of the worst tragedies in the history of the United States. These unusual opinions belong to Professor Carroll Quigley of the Georgetown School of Foreign Affairs, who visited Groveton in March as part of Fairfax County's new Visiting Scholar Program. Versed on almost every phase of history, he spoke to a mass assembly of History and government students on the Cold War, later to individual subject groups on current topics of study.

Superlatives Groveton students this year were not unaware of the world. There were early McCarthy buttons; representatives from Groveton at the peace march on the Pentagon; and discussions about the peace negotiations. Closer to home was anxiety about the impending annexation by Alexandria and the results of the violent slaying of the non-violent Martin Luther King. Yet Groveton was accorded two superlatives this year: the highest percentage accident and drop-out rates in Fairfax County. In the protests against the way the world is run, idealistic youth fails too often to realize that before it is accorded responsibility to run the world it must not abuse the responsibility of running itself.
